It shall include, but not be limited to, substances listed in the Table of Hazardous Materials contained in the Code of Federal Regulations-Title 49 and the National Fire Protection Association's Fire Protection Guide on Hazardous Materials.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 575.100, RSMo, [and with the approval of the affected court,] any law enforcement officer who seizes hazardous materials as evidence related to a criminal investigation may collect representative samples of such hazardous materials, and destroy or dispose of, or direct another person to destroy or dispose of the remaining quantity of such hazardous materials. Once the law enforcement agency has documented the hazardous materials as provided in subsection 3 of this section, the agency may dispose of the representative samples of such materials.

3. Due to the danger posed by exposure to representative samples of hazardous materials, in any prosecution, [representative samples of hazardous materials accompanied by] photographs, videotapes, laboratory analysis reports or other means used to verify and document the identity and quantity of [the material] hazardous materials shall be deemed competent evidence of such [hazardous] materials and shall be admissible in any proceeding, hearing or trial as if such materials had been introduced as evidence.
